Megan: Hello everyone and welcome to this Conversations with the Division webinar. I'm Megan Hiltner with the Healthy Start EPIC Center. And the focus for this call will be on program closeout for current grantees. For those of you that may have questions about the next funding cycle, there will be a separate webinar to address those specific questions so please stay tuned for that date and that webinar information. As you can see from the agenda for our webinar today, we have folks from the division of Healthy Start and Perinatal services here to share some updates with you, as well as grants management specialists to provide you with updates and answer questions as well. I will turn it over to captain Dr. David de la Cruz with the division of Healthy Start and prenatal services in a moment for a brief welcome, but first I wanna share with you a couple of housekeeping announcements.

We have approximately 90 minutes set aside for this webinar. It is being recorded and the recording along with the transcript and the slides will be posted to the Healthy Start EPIC Center's website following the webinar. We do want your participation, so if you do have questions or comments, please put them into the chat box in the lower left corner of your screen. We're gonna be taking two questions in between each presenter and then we'll continue on with the presentation. If we don't get to all of the questions that we have in our allotted time today, we'll be including them in a frequently asked questions document that will be posted with the webinar materials on the EPIC Center's website. So with that I'm gonna now turn it over to David for your opening remarks. David?

David: Thank you Megan. So good afternoon everyone and welcome to the Conversations with the Division. My name again is David de la Cruz and I'm the deputy director of the Division of Healthy Start and Perinatal Services within HRSA's Maternal and Child Health Bureau. On behalf of the Healthy Start team, I welcome you to this quarter's Conversations with the Division. Now, we continue to hold these webinars as our way of keeping our three point commitment to you. First, to maintain an open communication policy, second to provide you with updates on important issues related to the program and third to offer you an opportunity to ask any questions related to the program and its implementation. I do want to remind you though that if you have questions for the division, you absolutely do not need to wait for one of these webinars. Please contact your project officer at any time. Your project officer should always be your first point of contact. However, you always may contact me or either Benita Baker or Sony Fermin the two Healthy Start branch chiefs and you will hear from Benita later in this webinar.

I also bring you greetings from doctor Tiffany McNair. Dr. McNair is the new director of the Division of Healthy Start and Perinatal Services. Unfortunately, she is not available to participate in today's webinar as she is involved in another meeting. Now as Megan said, the purpose of this webinar is to ensure you have the information you need, as we closeout this 5 year cycle of the program, you'll get information from the program side, the data collection and reporting side, and also from our colleagues from grants management. We wanna make sure that each of you is hearing the same information directly from HRSA.

Also, as Megan said, next month, once the new funding cycle begins, we'll be setting up a separate webinar to discuss kickoff. Therefore, again, this webinar we're only focused on closing out this cycle of funding. Please hold your questions related to the next cycle for the next Webinar. Now at the conclusion of today's webinar we will be fielding questions to provide clarification and as much information as we possibly can. So please throughout the presentation, submit your questions or comments in the chat box, sort of at the bottom left. We'll get through as many as time allows and all the questions that we answer and even the ones that we don't have time to answer, will be posted on the Healthy Start EPIC Center website to be accessible for your convenience in the near future. So thank you again. Hope you enjoy the webinar. And now I'm gonna turn it over to Benita for the Healthy Start program update.

Benita: Thanks David. Good afternoon everyone. I'm going to go over a few programmatic closeout items. Items that you will have to submit in order to close the current program project period that you're in now. The first document is the impact report. The impact report is a written summary from your perspective of the experience and impact of your Healthy Start program on your target population. By now you should have received a request for additional information through the EHB from your project officer with the impact report instructions attached. That report is due June 29th.

Also, your current PO should be transitioning...setting up calls with you for any additional closeout questions, concerns that you may have. So that's occurring now. So if your PO has not contacted you, they will be at some point here shortly. The next report, that programmatic report that you will have to complete in the EHB is the Project Period and Performance report. That's completed in the EHB. All forms are completed and that is where you would list your indicators for calendar year 2018. Some have asked, where do we include the indicators for the first 3 months of this year? I believe the impact report instructions indicate for you to list those indicators in that impact report. So to repeat, for calendar year 2018, your indicators are to be included in the EHB. For the performance measures and for the performance measures indicators for January through March, you would indicate those in your impact report. And that's all I have for programmatic closeout.

Megan: Benita, there's a couple of questions here for you. The first one is, can you restate the due date in EHB for the impact reports?

Benita: It should be June 29th now. Yes. June 29th.

Megan: Okay, great. And a follow-up question, this is regarding the indicators report. Do you want calendar year 2018 and quarter one 2019 indicators reported combined or should they be broken out separately?

Benita: So I'll repeat. In the EHB, for the project period and performance report, you will be reporting calendar year 2018 indicators. That's January 1, 2018 to December 31st, 2018. In your impact report, you will be documenting your indicators for January through March, 2019 within the narrative of your impact report.

Megan: Great. All right, thanks Benita. Let's move along now to our grants management specialist on the line today, LaShawna Smith to share some updates from the grants management office.

LaShawna: Hi, good afternoon or good morning everyone. My name's LaShawna Smith and I work in the division of grants management operations. I'm just gonna give you a couple of brief tips in terms of closeout. Next slide. For those grantees ready to closeout, the grantees must submit the following reporting requirements in preparation to be closed out, the final FFR is due July 30th, 2019 and remember the final FFR expenditures must match the payment management system quarterly reporting for June 30 which is due July 30. So your final FFR expenditures must match what you report in payment management for your June 30th, quarterly report.

Any grantees that purchased equipment with Healthy Start funds that have a value of $5,000 per unit must submit the SF428 for closeout. And this is only for our equipment purchase that has a value of $5,000 per unit. It's not $5,000 total. It's $5,000 per unit and it currently still has a fair market value of $5,000. Then you would submit the SF428. If you have any questions regarding whether you should submit this, please contact the grants management specialist that's listed on your Notice of Award. Also, take note of programs direction for their programmatic closing-out reporting. The performance report is due 90 days after the project period ends, and follow Benita's directions from her previous slide. Next slide.

Grantees not funded for fiscal year '19, but still need additional time to complete their project. Grantees may submit a prior approval for a no-cost extension. You must submit the following, a cover letter to include the additional time desired a between 1 and 12 months, the goals and objectives to be completed during the no-cost extension, how much federal funds that you have left available to complete the goals and objectives and a budget narrative that breaks down that you will be, that'll be allocated during the extended period. If the no-cost extension, if it is approved, the budget period will be extended. Therefore, carry over is not applicable in this case. And you would still have the annual FFR due in July and then you would have the final FFR that would be due after the extended period.

Next slide. Cool. I'm sorry, that concludes my grants management tips for closeout. If you have any further questions, please reach out to your grants management specialist.

Megan: Okay. So I believe that this question was answered, but I wanna restate it. There's only one question specific to grants management right now. LaShawna, but that's, if we receive a no-cost extension, does that change the FFR reporting requirements?

LaShawna: So if you receive a no-cost extension, the FFR is still due July 30, so you will still have that annual FFR due July 30 but then you'll have another FFR do after the extended period.

Megan: Okay, thank you. All right. We have a couple more questions for the General Division presentation, but we're gonna hold those questions because we wanna get through the content here. So the next portion of the webinar is gonna focus on Healthy Start Data Reporting. So Chris Lim, I'm gonna turn it over to you for your portion of the presentation.

Chris: All right, thank you Megan. Good afternoon and good morning Healthy Start grantees. Next slide please. So we wanna begin by thanking everyone for all their due diligence in providing us data over the past couple of years or the 4 or 5 years for this currently ending project period. Without your data, we couldn't tell your story. So thank you for telling us your story, and you're not off the hook because we have more reporting. Next slide please.

So for the HSMED client level data, we need your 2019 data for the first quarter of the year, that's January to 2019. If you haven't submitted your data, please do that by no later than April 19th. If there are concerns with that date or getting in all your data, please let your currently assigned PO work with you, then they will inform me and then we could see what we can do. But we really need that data throughout the month of April and that's why the 19th was chosen. Next slide please.

This is just a reminder slide for those who have new staff who now are responsible for reporting the data, should read over the slide that goes over how to register into the Healthy Start HSMED system and of course how to get logged in and how to report your data and title the data on a monthly basis because we realized that some evaluators or the...those who upload the data may have changed during this past month or two. So please look over this slide. Next slide please.

And now we also have more data for you to report. The aggregate level data, if you haven't completed that, you will have to report March's data in April and that will also be due April 19th through the Healthy Start data mailbox. If you also have any concerns, please discuss with your PO what your concerns may be with reporting. But as we are hoping we will get all the client level data in April, we would like to just get all the aggregate level data as well. Next slide please.

Just a couple of other reminders for those who are also new to the client level data, you might be new to the aggregate level data reporting. So just look over this slide quickly. Remind yourselves or look at how to report the data correctly with the right title, how to upload or email the data to the Healthy Start data mailbox. Next slide please.

Also a couple of other reminders as well. Look at how you're emailing your data to the Healthy Start data mailbox. It's crucial because at this time, we'll be reviewing a lot of data that will probably come in at the same time for the past 3 months. So be clear on how you're, I mean, what data you're submitting in your email if at all possible so we can expedite in our review of your data what you're sending to us. We appreciate that a lot. And to the next slide please.

I hope this is useful. Just as a reminder of what's left to do in terms of reporting. You'll still have as Benita you'd already mentioned, a Healthy Start Impact Report that's due on June 29th, just a reminder. Performance reports which will be due 90 days after you receive the EHB generated reminder or notification. The list, I mean the last calendar year, 2019 month, the aggregate level data is due no later than April 19th, through Healthy Start data mailbox. The client level data also and the last bit of that, due no later also than April 19th and FFR which LaShawna mentioned as well, will be do as well. And again, thank you again for all your due diligence paid to reporting data to the division of Healthy Start and Perinatal Services. We really appreciate all your hard work and all throughout the year. So thank you very much. And that concludes my portion of the presentation.

Megan: Thanks Chris. All right. We've been getting some questions about the slide. We will definitely make sure those are posted to the website within a couple of days following this webinar and that way you can refer to some of the slides that Chris had referred to. One question for you Chris. If we have staff that are agents and maybe users and they're no longer with us, how do we activate those?

Chris: Good question. So in April because we wanna make sure that folks are still able to upload the data we'll be going through once we get all our new emails asking for new folks to register and then we will also be asking those that we expect no longer to have, or have a need for access, we would send them an email and confirm that they are definitely working on any data left throughout April, and if they still are then we will leave their access available, and then in May probably turn off their access so they cannot access the HSMED after they've completed their data use. And for those who are no longer staff with your projects, when we send out the emails, that will be your opportunity to tell us who is now required to have access.

Megan: So I've got a request to go back to one of the slides of yours, Chris. Here it is. Okay. So this person was just wanting to see a little bit more about defining item 1C in the aggregate report.

Chris: Okay.

Megan: When in serve to date. So I'm gonna hold on this slide so folks can refer to it. But I'm gonna ask you a question separately as this slide is up there. Someone just wants to verify the HSMED will no longer accept 2019 data after...will not accept 2019 data uploads after April 19th, 2019.

Chris: That is the hope. you know, I haven't defined, I mean, haven't determined what date I will put...I will request that the data no longer be accepted, but that is the hope. So of course that means every grantee should really get their data in by no later than the 19th. And then yeah, if it does not update it after that, that's because I've chosen to go in and close the data.

Megan: And how about, will the 2017 evaluation results be forthcoming at some point soon?

David: Yeah, this is David yet they will be. So we keep collecting the data and we're cleaning the data. We're also, you know, there are multiple components of the Healthy Start national evaluation. Those are continuing to be collected. You know, it's the PRAMS data and the vital records linkage stuff. Stuff, that's a technical term. So all of that will be coming out soon. It will probably be coming out from our Healthy Start contractor, which is Abt Associates. We are committed to making sure that those results are shared with you all. But we don't have a timeline yet because of the clearance process, but yes, they will be shared with you all.

Megan: Okay. And someone just wanted to confirm, Chris about the data submissions. Can they submit data before the 10th of the month?

Chris: Yes. They could definitely submit it any, I mean early or in advance of the time. And actually that's always been the case. We just wanted to make grantees feel at ease, not having to rush to get their data in at the, you know, at the beginning of the month. So we use the 10th, but they can definitely report early.

Megan: Okay. So from what I can tell in the chat box, those are all the questions that we have at this moment for your section, Chris. So I'm gonna go back to the program closeout section from the beginning. I think there was some questions around Benita, the, the impact report and the date that some folks had received an EHB. They just wanted to find out if the date in EHB can be corrected to June 29th or there might be some confusion related to which report. But they're just wanting to make sure that they're EHB report that says June 19th as opposed to June 29th.

Benita: Sure.

Megan: Could they be looking at the wrong report or a different report? Not the wrong report. A different report.

Benita: I can't really say. I don't know of any report that would be due June 19th, but at any rate, June 29th is the due date. What we'll do is we'll ask all POs to go back and double check and make sure that they have given that June 29th as a due date and make that correction in the system. What may have to happen is that the grantee would submit a extension. So just for those few days, but let's give us a minute and, you know, a couple of days to contact the POs to make sure of the due date that they've given their grantees and to find out how we correct that in the system if it does need to be corrected. But at any rate, it's the 29th. June 29th.

Megan: Great. And Benita, can you verify that the project period and performance report? The PPEPR report is available now or when will it be available in EHB?

Benita: No, I'm not certain. Performance reports, your yearly performance reports are normally based on the release of the Notice of Award. So technically it's 90 days after the release of the notice of award. So if all the Notice of Awards were released on the same day, then everyone would have the same due date. If one or two were released, you know, earlier or later or whatever, you'd have different due dates. So you have to check the EHB. If you have a report or a deliverable due in the EHB, it's always listed. If it's not listed, that means it's not available yet.

Megan: Right. So from what I can tell in the chat box. Let me look. Oh, no, I was trying to condense the ones for you Benita and then get to the ones we have waiting for grants management. There is one here. Someone says that they don't believe they received instructions for their impact report. Would that show up as a task in EHB?

Benita: Yes, it would show up in the EHB.

Megan: As a task. Okay.

Benita: If you have not received it as a task email me and let me know who your PO is.

Megan: So a couple of questions that have come in, again Benita, and I'm gonna go back to your slide here. I think that it would help folks if they, if you can explain again the difference between the Performance Report, the Impact Report and the PPEPR report.

Benita: The Performance Report is a narrative, is mostly a narrative of the 2014 through 2019 period. And you should have received instructions on what to submit. So it's a written summary from your perspective of the experience and impact the Healthy Start program has had on your target population and your target area. And it states that in the Impact Report instructions, and it states exactly what you need to submit. The Project Period End Performance Report is basically the same as your regular yearly performance reports that you've done, except it's for the end of this project period. It's the same report. They just call it a Project Period End Performance Report.

Megan: Okay. So it looks like for now, those are the questions we have related to your section on program closeout, Benita. So I'm gonna go back to you LaShawna, about grants management. We have some questions here. And I know you've responded to some folks who've chatted in questions about this, but I think I just wanted to say it if other folks are wondering regarding the request for carryover and am I correct in that, that will be covered in next month's webinar discussing...not addressing program closeout. Okay. So here's a question for you. If they get funded...oh, no. again, that's a, well you can address, LaShawna, if this is a question for this webinar or the next webinar. If they get funded in the new cycle, can they still apply for carryover or extension with any remaining unspent funds in the current cycle ending March 31st?

LaShawna: Okay. So if grantees were funded in the FY19 cycle then they do not need a no-cost extension. No-cost extension is only for those grantees that were not funded. So if you were not funded, you may request a no-cost extension. If you were funded and you have an unobligated balance from the '18, '19 budget period, then yes, you may request the carryover of those funds and we will be discussing that more at the webinar next month for the continuing and new Healthy Start grantees.

Megan: Do I see a few other questions kind of in that same area. So just folks know that if you are funded and have some questions regarding no-cost extensions, we will be getting into more detail on that on the next webinar.

LaShawna: If you are funded, it's not a no-cost extension, it's a carryover, you would request carryover of the UOB from the '18, '19 year. So if you are funded, it is carryover. If you're not funded, it's...that's when you would request the no-cost extension.

Megan: Thank you for that clarification. By when, if a group did not spend their 2018 dollars then they can, they wanna...oh, we've already covered that one. Sorry, folks. I'm just trying to keep up with your questions coming in. Okay. I see a couple of questions in here for you, Chris, but I'm just trying to confirm that. All right. Yeah. So at this point I feel like we've gotten to most of the grants management questions in the hopper for program closeout. So Chris, a couple of more questions for you. On the aggregate report, where do we count the pregnant women who delivered during the month?

Chris: Oh, we don't count pregnant women who deliver in the month. We just count pregnant woman and the total number of live births. So continuing to report to us your number of live births in question or metric three and continue to count your pregnant women in 1A, 1B, and 1C, but we don't count pregnant woman who gave birth. That's a specific number that we don't ask for. Hope that answers your question, Carla. I saw that. I was like, no, we don't ask for who delivered during the month. We do ask for live births.

Megan: Right. And...okay. How about, do you want...ooh. Here we go. Do you want this aggregate data for January to March, 2019 to be submitted combined?

Chris: If you haven't submitted already in the month of February and the current month of a March your January and February data, then please by all means combine all three in April for January, February, and March your data. Of course, separate them. We have the different...particular rows or specific rows per month to report your monthly data. So take advantage of that template, again, allowing you to put multiple months. Yep. By all means. Go ahead and just send us all three.

Megan: Okay. And so, Chris, you said that data can be submitted before the 10th of each month, but what about if the data is submitted, you know, as of the 10th or how much later can it be submitted?

Chris: We just need it by April 19th. Oh yeah, we need it by April 19th. So unfortunately we can't, I mean, unless something happens and I have to extend, but I'm hoping not to. April 19th.

Megan: So Chris, for you and I guess for David, this might be for you too. For those not funded in the next cycle, will HRSA still be linking vital records data to their clients after the project closes?

David: No, we won't.

Megan: Okay. And I'm just scanning through these at the moment here. Okay. Back to you Benita, another some more questions about I think we talked about this, but just restating when will the impact report guidance be issued?

Benita: The impact report guidance should have already been issued through the EHB. It would come from your...as a request for information from your project officer or from HRSA.

Megan: Another person had chatted in that they see the impact report there, impact report attachment A, but they're wondering what are the correct dates.. Sorry, let me say it again. What are the correct data periods to use for each year? Is it calendar year, budget year, etc? Or is that...

Benita: Calendar year.

Benita: Yes.

Megan: All right. And there are a couple of questions back to I think Chris, you know when you were responding to the question about reporting around pregnant women, there was a clarification here about the question if a woman delivers during the month, is she included in the number of pregnant women or the number of non-pregnant women and somebody else kind of submitted a follow up question, just wanting to, you know, for you to restate that again.

Chris: Thank you. Now that's clarified for me. So yes, if she was pregnant within that month and she delivered, she will still be counted as a pregnant woman for that month and that client would not be counted in that non-pregnant client column.

Megan: Okay. All right. LaShawna, I think this is the question for you. Is there a time period within, we must submit a no-cost extension request, and approximately when would we be informed that the no-cost extension is approved?

Leshanna: Hi. So if you're gonna be requesting a no-cost extension, you need to get it in as soon as possible because it's really late at this point. It's really late at this point. The project period is ending in a couple of days and so we really need you to submit it as soon as possible. Under extended authority, I think the rule said you were supposed to submit it within the 10 days before the budget period ends. But I know that there was some system challenges to get that in. But at this point, you know, I would get it in as soon as possible because it's now really on the late side. So once you submit it under prior approvals, it's just like any other prior approvals where it'll be 30 days, you'll receive a response within 30 days. We'll do...we'll do what we can to make sure you can get it sooner than that, but the policy is 30 days after receipt of the prior approval.

Megan: And if they submitted a no-cost extension that the extended balance ends up being higher than requested, are they able to expend for the full remainder or do they need to stick with the requested amount?

LaShawna: That question, I wasn't quite sure. I wasn't quite sure how to follow that question. And please send me an email, lsmith3@hrsa.gov and we can chat about that more.

Megan: @hrsa.gov. I'm putting your email into the chat box here. So, oops, I chatted that individually. I was gonna chat your email to all here, lsmith3@hrsa.gov. And I did see that there was a request to show Chris, one of your slides again, somebody wanted to have a second to look at your slide. Let me see which one it is. I believe it was the question, the XML slide.

LaShawna: Regarding the due date?

Megan: I think this was around data reporting, LaShawna. So, here we are. I think this is the one that they're hoping to see. If not chat in and let me know if there's a different one you'd like to see here. But again, we will be sending the slides out to everyone so you can review them. I see there's a few more questions in here, but they're specific to folks that are closing out this month, but continuing on. And I guess I'll ask this question LaShawna, but if you think it's better for our next webinar, then that is fine as well. So the group is funded for a new round, but yet it's funded in a new geographic area. So they wanna closeout their current program. Is there any way they can submit a no-cost extension?

LaShawna: I'm gonna have to know the specifics to that case. So that would be another one for them to please send me an email to lsmith3@hrsa.gov.

Megan: Okay. All right. And here's a question for you. I think this is for you Chris and Benita. Oh, no, it's Benita, it's more for you, Benita, I think. When they're reporting project accomplishments according to the benchmark. So this would be in appendix A.

Benita: Pardon me?

Megan: So this is specific to their impact report, I believe. When they're reporting project accomplishments according to the benchmarks in appendix A, is this data and information reported per calendar year or grant year? I believe you said calendar year, but I wanna make sure.

Benita: No, no. I think I found out what the issue is and it's just about... Okay. So where it says project accomplishments in the impact report and it tells you to detail your indicators for all 19 benchmarks. That would be indicators for the full 5 year period. What did you achieve? You were supposed to achieve, let's say 90 for breastfeeding. I think it, I don't think it's 90. But 90% at the end of the project period, that's March 31st. What did you achieve? What was the benchmark and what did you achieve? Now, when you go down to the project period and performance reports section, I think that word benchmark should have been performance measures, that's what's causing the confusion, I believe. The benchmarks are based on the overall project period. The performance measures are a yearly calendar year count. Does that make sense?

Megan: And folks, I'm just...I think that...I know we had some follow up information and I just, again, Benita I'm hoping you can clarify again the reporting period for the two reports. Impact Report reporting period would be January 2018 to March 2019?

Benita: For the entire Impact Report, it's 2014 when you got funded in 2014 to March 31st, 2019, that's the Narrative Report. That's for the benchmarks. You were supposed to achieve certain benchmark percentages based on those measures, those benchmarks. You have to tell us what did you achieve? Did you achieve the 60% for breastfeeding or whatever it is, 61% or...Did you receive 90% medical home? What did you achieve related to those benchmarks?

Now, the Project Period End Performance Report is the report that you complete yearly and it's calendar year data. So the Project Period End Performance Report in the EHB, you will be reporting calendar year January 1, 2018 to December 31st, 2018. We don't want those first 3 months of 2019 to be included in that report. So because they're not included in that report, you need to include that, the data, the indicators for those, in the Impact Report narrative under the section Project Period End Performance Report. For clarity, we will send, have POs send out an email to all their grantees to reiterate what I just said.

Megan: Great. Thanks Benita. I think that will be helpful. Let's see here. So there are a couple of questions here regarding the reporting the benchmarks that changed over the 5-year period. For example, they just have used reading cut off changed from daily to 3 days. What would you recommend that grantees do to talk through some of those questions about reporting? Would they go through to their POs and talk through those?

Benita: Yes.

Megan: Okay. Great. And you, you know, I think you stated this but I'm hoping you can restate it again Benita because I think the way you said it, provided some clarity. But can you restate the difference in benchmarks and performance measures? This person is saying aren't they the same thing?

Benita: They're the same. They're the same thing, but you're reporting differently. In the EHB you're reporting on the calendar year basis. We want what you've achieved for the full 5 years to be included in the impact report.

Megan: Great. So I'm scanning the chat box and it looks like the majority of the questions, there are still a few here, but many are specific to being funded in the new cycle. So as the folks on the webinar said that there will be another webinar related to the next round of continuation. Oh, here is a question that is new. Can you repeat the evaluation process and birth certificate matching for non-PRAMS states? Is this continuing and when can we expect the report?

David: So this is David. So the Abt Associates is our evaluation contractor, that contract ends at the end of fiscal year '19, so at the end of September of 2019. And we will get the report before then. So in order for them to have enough time to analyze all the data and to run all the different numbers and all that stuff, we are no longer collecting any new information from either the PRAMS sites or from the vital records linkage. So we're done with that and they are going to take what they were able to get and write the report based on that combined with your HSMED and HSMES data. So that report will come out, you know, at the end of the summer. And we are still in negotiations of what type of report that will be. It's quite possible that it will be, you know, sort of, your traditional summary report, but we're also working with them to try to tell your story in a way that would be appropriate to get published in some journals, so that we can tell the Healthy Start story more widely and more broadly and in more of a scientific way that would advance, you know, the work that you all do.

Megan: Okay. Let me scan here a little bit more to see if there's anything here...that's not specific to those continuing on. So I'm not seeing anything, any specific questions to program closeout here, but I will give you all a second. I put up contact information here for the branch chiefs, Benita Baker and Sony Fermin, it's here. And I know you have your project officer information and LaShawna Smith included her grants management email address as well. I'm just sort of waiting to see, oh, here's a question. Let's see. A couple more questions. If the contract with Abt is ending and there won't be any more linkage to data with vital records offices, will there be a national evaluation plan in the new grant cycle?

David: We are working on that now. Yeah, we anticipate there to continue to be, obviously there'll be data collection and reporting. And we are currently discussing or in continued discussions about what type of national evaluation there would be in the next cycle. So what...we can talk about that next month when we talk about kickoff.

Megan: Great. All right, another...another...Well, and Benita feel free to say that this, this might be clarified in that Project Officer email that comes out, but I'll ask the question here just for clarification. If we include all 5 years in the Impact Report, which includes January 1st to March 31st, it's due on June 29th, it says in the EHB, apparently, January 1 to March 31st. Well, you know what I say, let's hold off on this question, because it's a hard one to ask through the phone and I don't wanna cause more questions from folks.

Benita: Okay.

Megan: Why...why don't folks just wait and receive that Project Officer email to see if their questions regarding dates get clarified and then if not, they can follow up more directly and have more one-on-one assistance from their Project Officer?

Benita: Right.

Megan: I don't wanna cause more questions from everybody. Yeah. Okay. Well, with that, I guess, David, I'll turn it over to you for any closing remarks you may have.

David: Okay. So thank you everyone. Thank you Megan for facilitating this discussion. Thank you to the grantees and who wrote in all the questions and to the 155 of you, which I think is the number that I saw as the highest, who logged on today. We hope that these conversations have been helpful to you. We do plan on continuing them in the future. As we stated, the information that was presented on this webinar will be posted to Healthy Start EPIC Center website within the next few days. On the website, there'll also be a transcript from this recording, the slides and we will continue to update the Frequently Asked Questions document that's also posted on the website. So thank you again. We look forward to continue working with you. As you cycle off this and closeout this 5 years, you know, the data that you submit to us as Chris mentioned, absolutely has helped us tell your story. And as you saw from some of the, you know, in the new NOFO, it did result in some additional funds for maternal mortality. So we're...I think we have a bright future ahead of us, but let's make sure we close out this cycle completely and correctly and then we'll move forward from there. So thank you very much everyone. We'll be in touch soon.

Megan: Thank you everyone. Thanks for your participation. This concludes our webinar. Have a great rest of your day.
