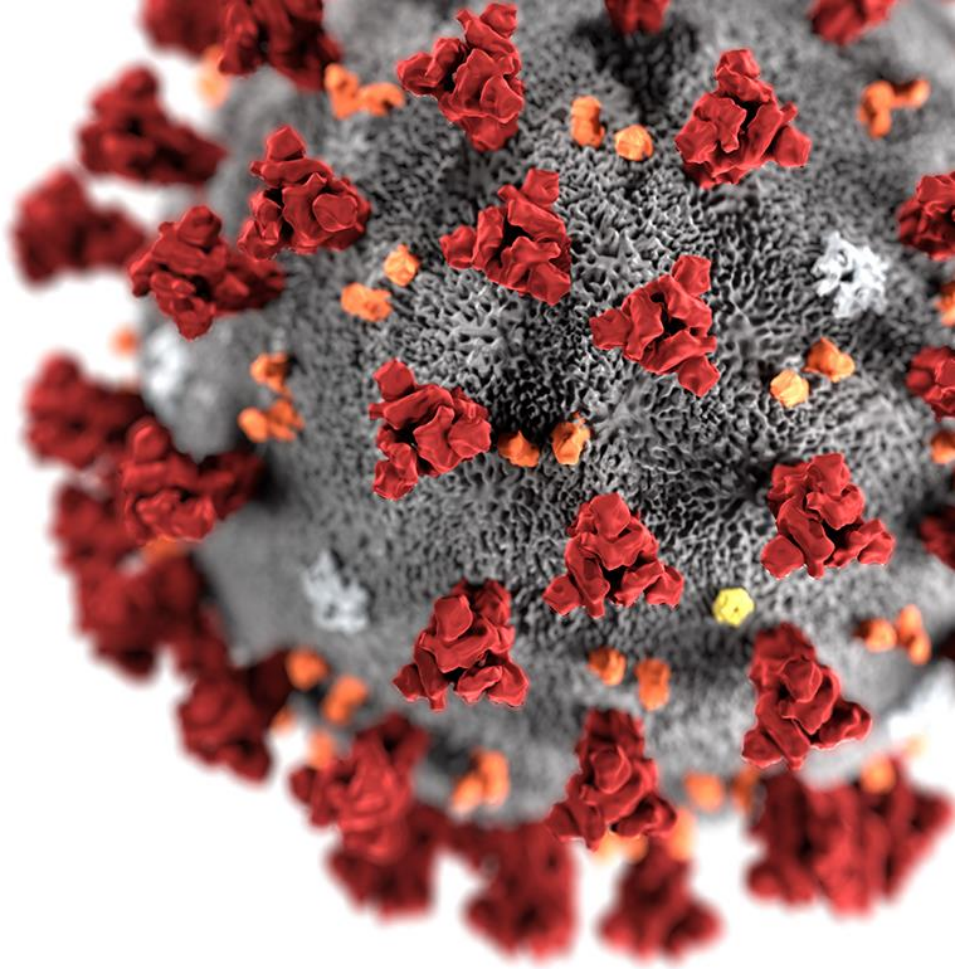
Vision: Healthy Communities, Healthy People

COVID-19 Response



Impact of COVID-19 on Maternal and Child Health

- Fear and risk of exposure to coronavirus
- Reduced access/utilization of well-child, perinatal, and well-woman care
- Altered labor & delivery care for pregnant women
- Altered systems of care for children and youth with special health care needs
- Loss of community supports
- Social isolation & increased mental health needs
- Increased socioeconomic stressors & family care needs
- Intimate partner violence
- Exacerbated health disparities (socioeconomic, racial/ethnic, rural, etc.)

Impacts across the life course that can affect generations to come

Healthy Start Programs' Response to COVID-19

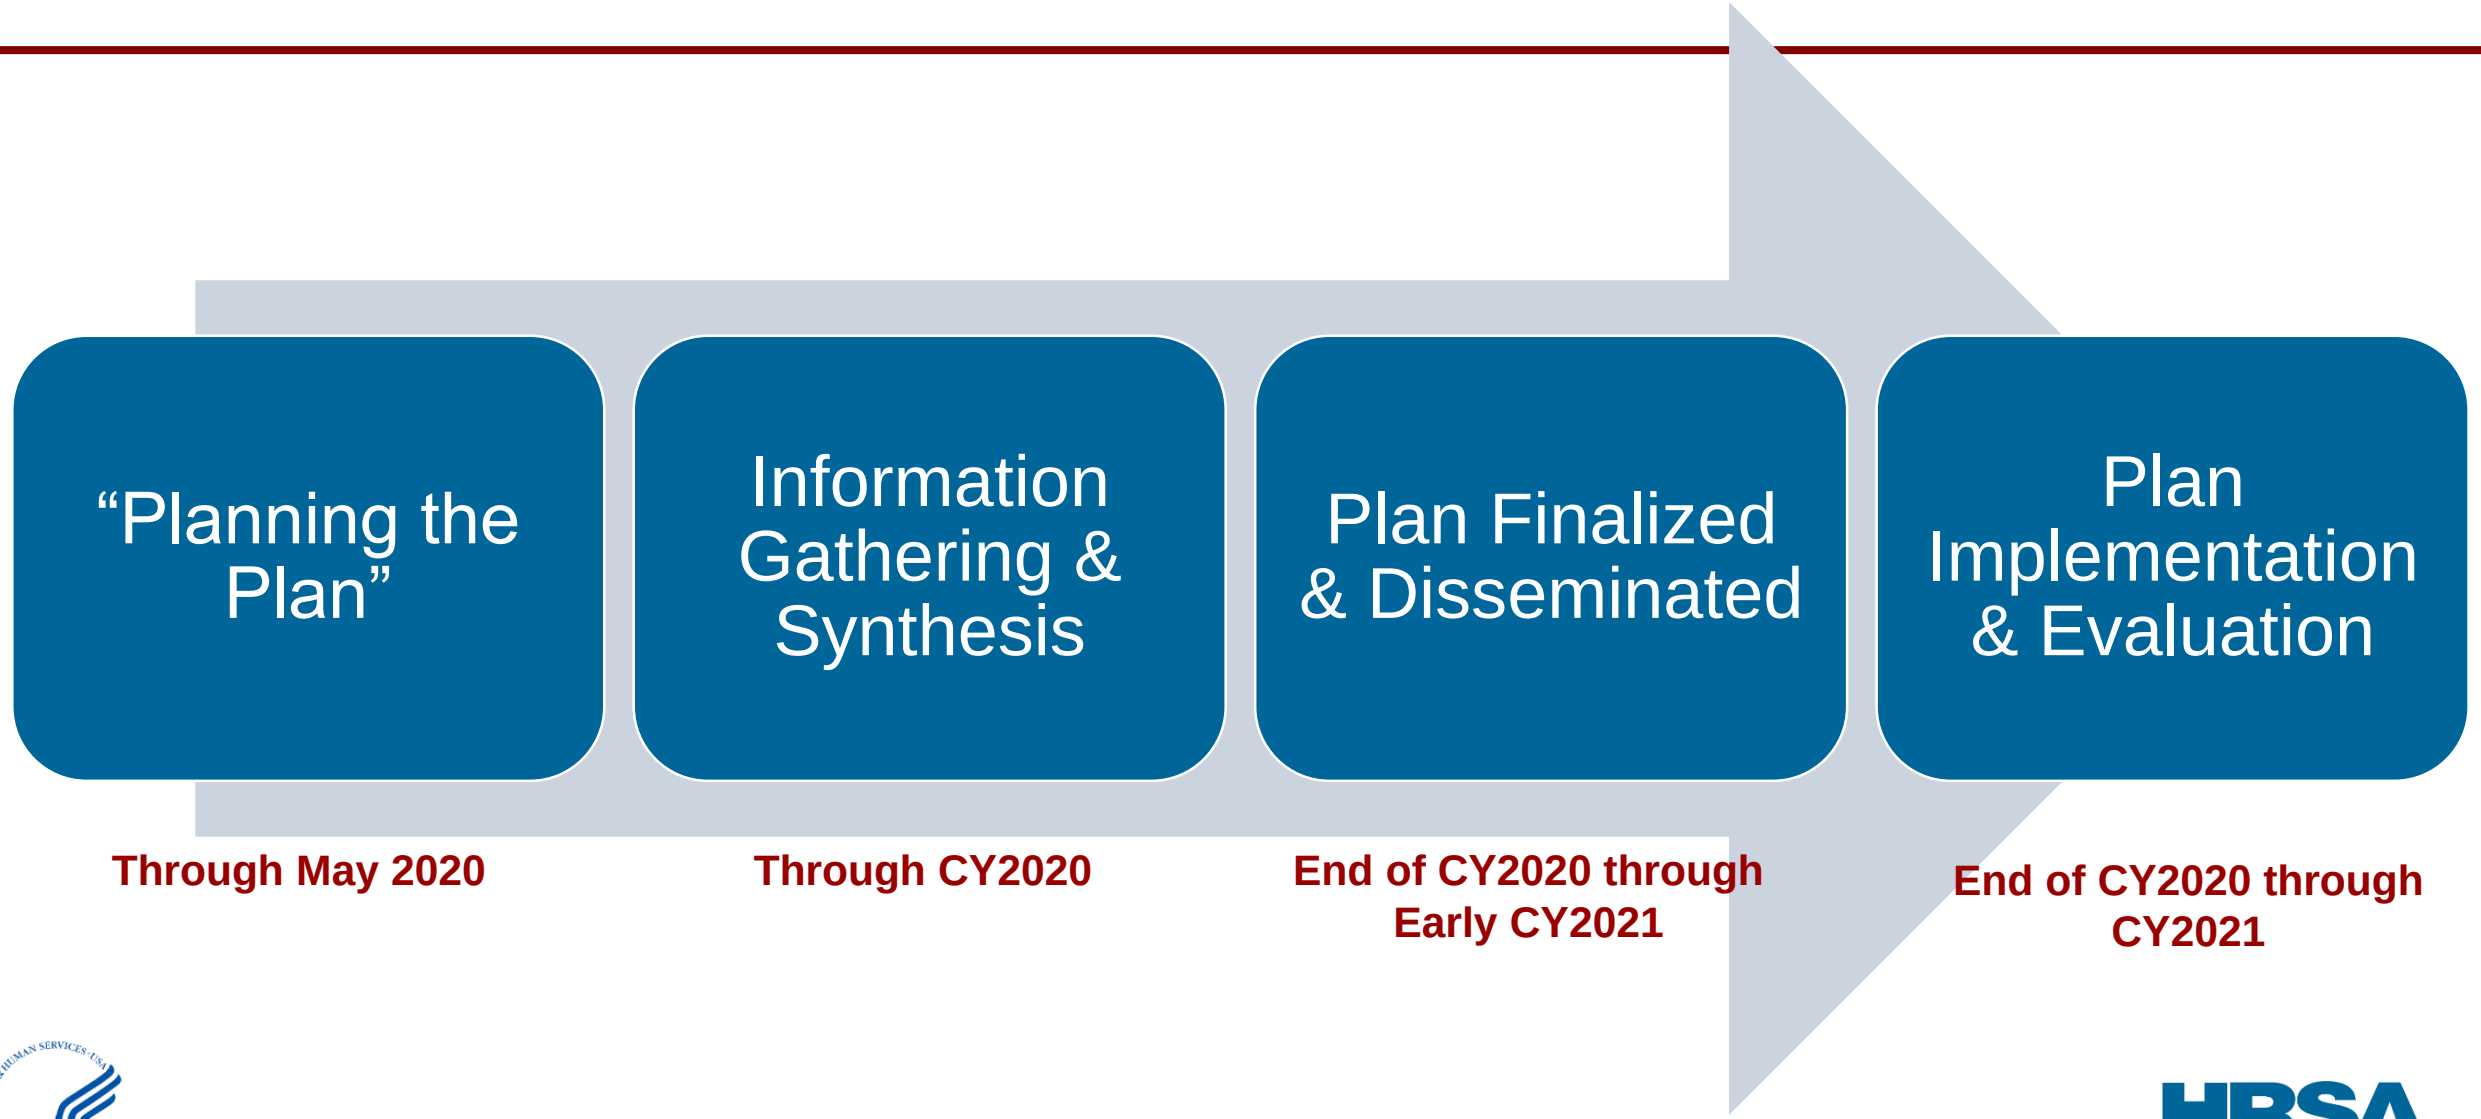
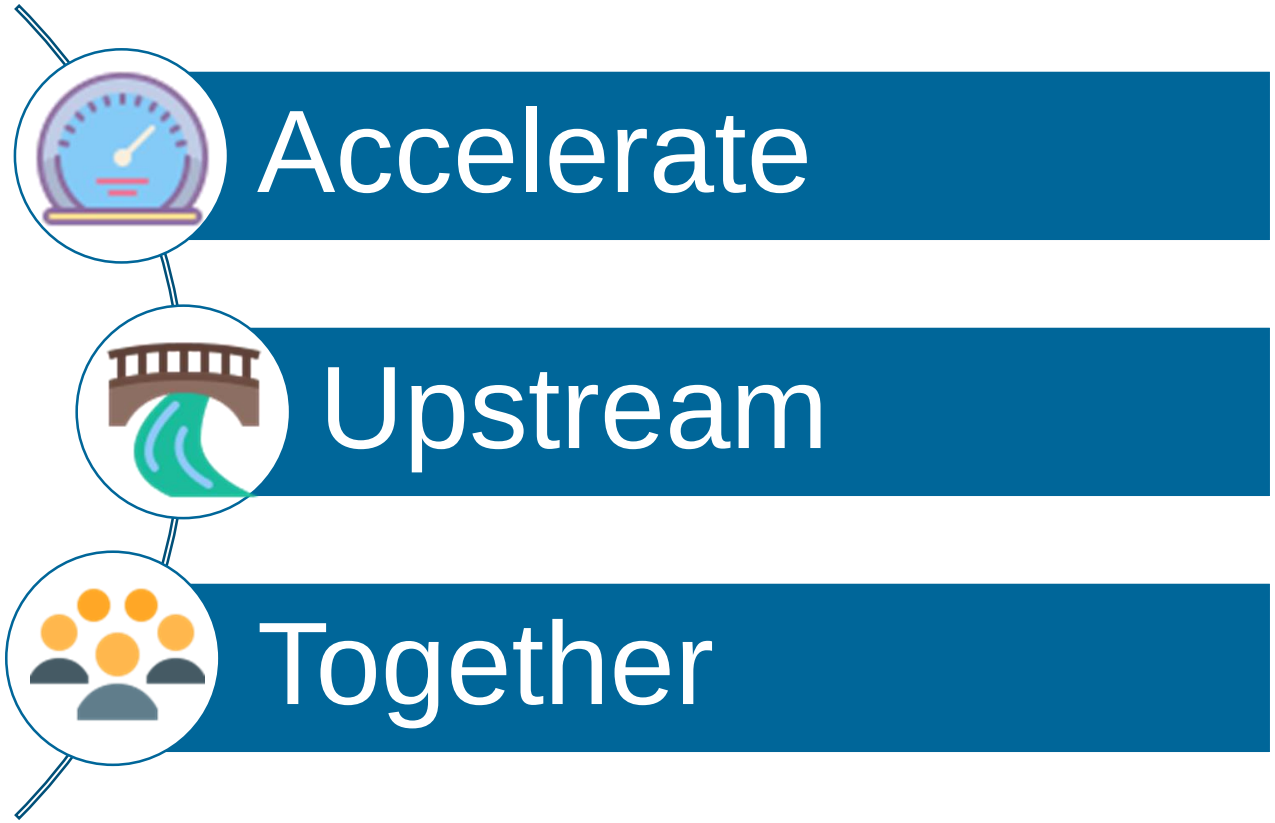
Looking Ahead

MCHB Strategic Plan



Paradigm for Improving Maternal and Child Health



ACCELERATE: Maternal Health Is a Priority

700	pregnancy-related deaths annually
25,000	delivery hospitalizations with a severe maternal morbidity diagnosis (not including transfusion)
3X	higher rates of death for Black and American Indian/Alaska Native women
60%	of deaths preventable
