Health Equity & Racial Equity

What we know.....

Can someone define racial equity?

Can someone define health equity?

Racial Equity Defined

1. Racial equity is the condition that would be achieved if one's racial identity no longer predicted, in a statistical sense, how one fares. When we use the term, we are thinking about racial equity as one part of racial justice, and thus we also include work to address root causes of inequities, not just their manifestation. This includes elimination of policies, practices, attitudes, and cultural messages that reinforce differential outcomes by race or that fail to eliminate them.
2. “A mindset and method for solving problems that have endured for generations, seem intractable, harm people and communities of color most acutely, and ultimately affect people of all races. This will require seeing differently, thinking differently, and doing the work differently. Racial equity is about results that make a difference and last.”

CDC's Definition of Health Equity

Health equity is achieved when every person has the opportunity to “attain his or her full health potential” and no one is “disadvantaged from achieving this potential because of social position or other socially determined circumstances.” Health inequities are reflected in differences in length of life; quality of life; rates of disease, disability, and death; severity of disease; and access to treatment.

Community Engagement

- What are the key elements of Collective Impact?
- What does true Community Engagement look like (guest vs member?)
- Why do caged birds sing and what are the caged birds (inequity, injustice) in your community?

I KNOW WHY THE CAGED BIRD SINGS

The free bird leaps on the back of the wind and floats downstream till the current ends and dips his wings in the orange sun rays and dares to claim the sky. But a bird that stalks down his narrow cage can seldom see through his bars of rage his wings are clipped and his feet are tied so he opens his throat to sing. The caged bird sings with fearful trill of the things unknown but longed for still and his tune is heard on the distant hill for the caged bird sings of freedom.

Data, Data and, Did I say, Data?

What we know?

1. Why is data important to gather in your CAN?
2. How can you use data in your CAN?
3. What are some sources for obtaining data to guide/inform your CAN?

Data- Why?

Beginning

- It informs you as to where the gaps /challenges are
- It informs us of why health equity matters.
- Necessary to motivate the unmotivated

Middle

- It informs the process, so you know when to pivot or move forward

End

- It informs the people if you succeeded
- It changes the world (this takes time)

Data - What You Need

1. A variety of data sources to address health equity in your community
 - Local Data
 - National Data
 - Personal Story Data
2. A system to collect the data
3. A Person (organization for tracking and entering data)
4. Use data to not just show the why but also the What if!! What could happen if we did not have these disparities....

Social Justice and Roots of Health Inequity

What are some of the foundations of Inequity?

What is racism?

How do we build equity in our communities

How do we build equity?

ROOTS

A close-up photograph of a young child with dark, curly hair, smiling broadly. The child is wearing a light blue short-sleeved shirt with white polka dots. Two hands, likely belonging to an adult, are gently holding the child's hands. The background is softly blurred, showing hints of greenery and a white surface. The text 'Thank You!' is overlaid in the upper right corner in a bright green, bold, sans-serif font.

Thank You!
